Detailed Walking Directions

Stairs/Escalator from Embarcadero BART Station

- If you are walking from BART to the Bay Area Metro Center and are able to use either stairs or an escalator, the easiest route is to use Exit B3 at the west end of the Embarcadero Station to reach the south side of Market Street.
- Once out of the station and on the Market Street sidewalk, proceed east along Market Street for a short distance to the intersection of Market and Beale Streets.
- Cross Beale Street at this intersection and then turn right and proceed south on the east side of Beale Street.
- The Bay Area Metro Center (375 Beale Street) also is on the east side of Beale.
- While traveling south along Beale Street, you will first cross Mission Street and then Howard Street before passing by the east side of the old Temporary Transbay Terminal and then crossing Folsom Street.
- The entrance to the Bay Area Metro Center is approximately 200 yards south of the intersection of Beale and Folsom Streets.

Elevator from Embarcadero BART Station

- At the Embarcadero BART station, there are elevators that will take you from the BART platform level to the concourse level. Then a separate elevator near the middle of the Concourse level may be used to reach Market Street.
- This street-level elevator is located on the north side of Market Street. Travel approximately 100 yards west to the next intersection.
- There, you can safely cross Market Street and reach the east side of Beale Street.
- The Bay Area Metro Center (375 Beale Street) also is on the east side of Beale.
- While traveling south along Beale Street, you will first cross Mission Street and then Howard Street before passing by the east side of the old Temporary Transbay Terminal and then crossing Folsom Street.
- The entrance to the Bay Area Metro Center is approximately 200 yards south of the intersection of Beale and Folsom Streets.

Salesforce Transit Center AC Transit Bus

- From the Salesforce Transit Center bus deck, you may reach Beale Street by proceeding to the east end of the bus deck.
- Use the escalator or the elevator to go down to ground level at the Beale Street exit.
- This exit and entry point is located on the west side of Beale Street. There is a traffic signal and a crosswalk just south of the Beale Street exit.
- At the traffic signal, use this crosswalk to safely cross to the east side of Beale Street.
- Then proceed south to the Bay Area Metro Center.
- While traveling south along Beale Street, you will first cross Howard Street, then the old Temporary Transbay Terminal, then cross Folsom Street.
- The entrance to the Bay Area Metro Center is approximately 200 yards south of the intersection of Beale and Folsom Streets.
